

General rules

on parking permits for people with reduced mobility

General

The parking permit is valid throughout the country on streets and in public places.

It is also valid in most European countries in accordance with an agreement concluded between Ministers of Transport. Details of periods of validity abroad are available from organisations for the disabled or from each country's embassy.

PLEASE NOTE!

The parking permit is not valid on sites where the landowner allows or forbids parking, unless the owner permits it. Contact the landowner in each individual case.

Period of validity

The parking permit provides entitlement to

- park for no more than three consecutive hours where local traffic regulations forbid parking
- park for no more than 24 consecutive hours where parking is permitted
- park in a parking space reserved for people with restricted mobility for no more than 3 hours, with a parking disc

In certain municipalities there are regulations on longer permissible parking times than those described above. Contact the relevant municipality for details.

The parking permit does not provide entitlement to park in a space that has been reserved for certain purposes, e.g. a taxi zone.

Charge

The parking permit does not provide a general exemption from the obligation to pay parking charges. Contact the relevant municipality for details.

Miscellaneous

The parking permit is not transferable and may only be used by the holder.

The loss or theft of a parking permit must be reported to the municipality, which issues a new permit. Lost or stolen permits must be reported to the police and are blocked. Found permits should be handed in to the police or the municipality that issued the permit.

The parking permit and parking disc must be displayed on the inside of the vehicle's windscreen in such a way that the front of the permit is clearly visible from the outside.

Any misuse of the permit may lead to it being revoked.
